

ACT 2

Scene 16

SETTING: Somewhat late in the morning
in Pamela's sitting room.

AT RISE: Pamela sitting quietly on a sofa.

(Shortly there is a quiet knock on the door. Pam rises slowly and opens the door)

Johnny

Er, guess who's here.

Pamela

What! OMG. It's You! Finally you made it back.

(Pam grabs Johnny by the coat and pulls him forcefully into the sitting room.)

So glad you are back.

(Johnny throws off his jacket and they both stand and face each other.)

Well, you're looking good. Not a marc on you.
Fantastic! What happened to you? Where have you been all this time and what happened to your car?
Where is it?

Johnny

Oh that piece of shit. It's a complete write off.
Smashed to bits. I just left it there and walked away. In some strange sense, I was kinda glad it was gone. I just didn't want to see it again.

2-16-2

Pamela

So you are NOT worried about losing your car. What about losing your life - You nit whit. So what caused the accident?

Johnny

Well I was simply going to fast when I turned off the highway. I was thrown out of the car just before it tumbled down the embankment and fell to pieces.

Pamela

So you were OK but the car wasn't. So sweetie where have you been the last few days? I've been so worried about you. And so have the others. But you say you're feeling OK now?

Johnny

Yeah, although I got really pissed off with the accident, at least I had more time to sit down and think about life, and you know, err you.

Pamela

What? You've been thinking about me? Are you sure you were not suffering from brain damage?

Johnny

No, honestly, I am quite Ok. I just wandered off into the woods and rested up. And that's when I started to think more about other things, especially about you. I suddenly felt that you were more important and meaningful to me than that stupid old car.

Pamela

Well I also thought a lot about you. But I must admit I felt more worried than anything else. If only I had known that you were still in one piece and alright. Shit Johnny where were you all this time.

2-16-3

Johnny

Oh I just hung about in the woods next to Green Park. We used to play there a lot when we were kids. You know, the park even has free washrooms and a shower. Didn't even have to pay to poo ha ha.

(Johnny moves closer to Pam and puts his arms gently on her shoulders)

God Pam, if only you knew how much I have missed you. I haven't a decent meal in over four days, let alone slept a wink.

Pamela

Yeah, Johnny I know what you mean. I guess you could say that I have lost a few pounds as well. Kinda good really.

(Johnny and Pam move closer and then hug and kiss again.)

Johnny

So good to see you again Pam. I didn't realize just how much I would miss you. If only I'd realized all this before, I'd have been back earlier to knock on your door.

Pamela

OMG Johnny I've also missed you so much. So glad you are back in one piece. Been looking forward to being with you again just like to old days when we were so young.

JOHNNY

Yeah, Pam I know exactly what you mean. And yeah I think its time for change - a BIG change especially with me.

(Johnny begins to sing x.It Takes One)

VERSE:

Walking down the road hand in hand
Love was so easy to understand
It was love we were feeling
And times we were kicking away

All the things we said in vain
Just give me a chance to prove again
It goes down deep inside
Feelings will hide and drift away

CHORUS:

I wanna change my life
I wanna get a new attitude
I'm feeling brand new
It takes one to be two
All I wanna do is
share my life with you

VERSE:

Tell me you are not afraid
To put the 'o' in love and the stars above
Sometimes you tell me I'm right
when there's lot less to say

I should have committed to you
I should have been better and stronger too
Next time I'll try to be what you want me to be - not me.

CHORUS:

I wanna change my life
I wanna get a new attitude
I'm feeling brand new
It takes one to be two
All I wanna do is
share my life with you

VERSE:

There's nothing to say that
can keep me away from you.
The key to unlock your heart is turning and I, I am pulling you near.

CHORUS:

I wanna change my life
I wanna get a new attitude
I'm feeling brand new
It takes one to be two
All I wanna do is
share my life with you

(Pam and Johnny kiss then laugh out loud)

Johnny

So Pam is it OK if I hang around with you this morning?

Pamela

Oh God John, so glad you are back and in one piece.
Rudy's invited me over to his place today so let's swing on by and maybe meet up with the others as well.

Johnny

Yeah good thinking Pam. Would it be OK if I held your hand?

2-16-6

Pamela

Well if we hang around here I might let you hold a lot more than that.

(They both laugh out loud, put their jackets on and head out the front door.)
