AT RISE: The living room is empty.

(Almost immediately, Rudy and Jen enter the living room. once, inside they throw their jackets off and then hug and kiss passionately.)

RUDY

God Jen it's so good to be with you again. I promise things will be different.

JENNIFER

You bet Rudy as long as you, well you know, don't get too lost with your music stuff.

RUDY

OK I'll definitely make a 'note' of that. From now on I'll only spend twenty three and a half hours a day doing music.

(Both Jen and Rudy laugh. Then there is a knock on the door)

JENNIFER

Ooops looks like we've got company.

(Jen opens the door. Johnny and Pam both enter)

RUDY

What the hell! Is that really you back again? Johnny so good to see you Bud.

(Rudy and Johnny meet, hug and shake hands)

JENNIFER

Come here bud and give me a hug.

(Jen and Johnny hug. Then Rudy and Pam hug)

So glad to see you both. Did you manage to drive over here? If so, where did you manage to park.

JOHNNY

No we didn't drive. We walked.

RUDY

So where is your car Johnny?

JOHNNY

Well sorry to say that I had to park it in the local junk yard. Although it's possible I could sell it for a unique door stop.

(The group all laugh.)

PAM

Good to see you all and looks like things are getting a bit better.

(Another knock on the front door.
Rudy opens the door. Franky and Roberta enter the room)

FRANKY

Hi Guys. Good to see you all. Johnny how the heck are you?

JOHNNY

Good man. How have you been?

FRANKY

Oh for me, it's been business as usual. You know, spending most of my time trying to figure out how I can get into Roberta's good books. And guess what. I think maybe I've done it this time.

(Franky and Roberta kiss quickly.)

PAM

Are you telling us that Roberta has finally fallen for a guy? Well, that's about time. Welcome to the club Roberta.

(Pam give Roberta a hug)

ROBERTA

Hi Everyone. Yes, I think that its time I should come clean and admit that maybe, just maybe, I'm actually in love with a real live man for the very first time.
